A tradition ends

Why did we do it? As our editor Renee Rico put it, "The name SKYROCKET has been around for many years—too many years. It once carried the idea of a new unconfined frontier. SKYROCKET was a very good name for a newspaper 25 years ago, but for today's world, frankly—it sounds like the name of a junior high school paper."

Our paper strives to bring new ideas and fresh viewpoints to its readers. This is the reason we have decided to give the paper a name that will not become outmoded. Our thanks go to John Hales, who suggested the paper's new name, We, the staff, present THE NEW EDITION.

2500 expected

Big week begins

by Glenn Boyd

The past several leadership programs have been centered around the same basic topic. In a nutshell, we may refer to it as "The Authority of the Scriptures." Commenting upon the ensuing repitition, William Woodson, chairman of our Bible department, told of how J. D. Tant once preached four straight nights on reverence. The fourth night someone asked why he had repeated his topic and he answered, "Because I want people to repent."

Thus the Lectureship Committee chose to continue the defense against liberalism, this year's specific topic, Woodson has given a concise definition of the term "liberalism," although he warns of its ambiguity. He defined it as, "The reduction of respect for the Bible in our time."

In the words of J. E. Canale, "There has been a lack of sense on the part of the Christian church, a loss of respect for the unity of the body of Christ and the unity of the church.

This year, as Woodson pointed out, the Lectureship Committee has again combined interesting subjects with capable men, which explains the attention and support received year after year.

Definite advantages can be found in the plan of having a limited number of speakers and subjects.

Also this year, Gus Nichols will discuss, "The Bible and its Influence on Our Society," C. C. Wallace's address will be on "The Bible and Its Authority," and W. A. Bradford will deliver "Love Versus Egotistic Love."

At 3:30 p.m. daily, the Mission Panel will convene, men from across the nation and across the world will be discussing mission areas and opportunities.

The Open Forum, directed by Guy N. Woods, will begin at 1:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The evening speakers will include Calvin Bowser, Eoy E. Wallace Jr., Thomas D. Warren, and Ira North. These are some of the key speakers and lecturers, all of which should prove both interesting and uplifting.

William Woodson commented that these lectures upon so vital a topic will be relevant to the needs of the brethren today to uphold the Bible under the opposition of liberalism.

PR director is missed

W. A. Bradford, F-RC's beloved Director of Public Relations, is, at the time of this writing, a patient at his home in Henderson. He is undergoing an extensive series of tests during December and January, both in Jackson and in Nashville. Bradfield's condition was diagnosed as a malignancy of the entire abdominal region.

Gospel preacher, teacher, editor, and optimistic thinker and president of "People of God" for practically every major F-RC for the past 25 years, Mr. Bradford is being missed.

Our prayers and thoughts are with the Bradfields.
New friendships, lasting memories highlight successful Madrigal tour
by Jennifer Davenport

Forty-five Madrigal singers, six drummers, and purpose-there's what Director John Bob Hattie took with him as he left on Freed-Hardeman College's first overseas tour. The purpose of this trip was to "represent Christianity, F-A-K, and American Youth."
The first stop was Nashville, where the group received a certificate from Governor Winfield Dunn, which made them official ambassadors of good will for the State of Tennessee.

While in the British Isles, one of the most rewarding experiences was when the group came to know two special coach drivers, Vick Plum and George Ellis. Many hours were spent sharing the happiness the group had as Christians with their new friends. The last performance was dedicated to the was afraid that his daughter, two tour-aged men, and that night Vick and George became his. He couldn't have been the first honorary members of the Madrigals.

Upon returning, John Bob Hattie took with him as he left on Freed-Hardeman College's first overseas tour. The purpose of this trip was to "represent Christianity, F-A-K, and American Youth."
The first stop was Nashville, where the group received a certificate from Governor Winfield Dunn, which made them official ambassadors of good will for the State of Tennessee. While in the British Isles, one of the most rewarding experiences was when the group came to know two special coach drivers, Vick Plum and George Ellis. Many hours were spent sharing the happiness the group had as Christians with their

SMILING MADRIGALS ENJOY A CROWDED BUS,

LIBERALISM, MODERNISM AND PSEUDO-INTELLECTUALISM ARE ON THE ATTACK

AXE ON THE ROOT

BY IRA Y. RICE, JR.

Order from IRA Y. RICE, JR. PUBLICATIONS
950 GREERLAND DRIVE
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE 37204

AXE ON THE ROOT

Vol. I -- 1 Copy $1; 5 copies $4.50
Vol. II -- 1 Copy $2; 5 copies $9.00
Vol. III--1 Copy $2; 5 copies $9.00

From what we could gather, this people placed a great deal of emphasis on respecting property. But for some strange reason, it seems they went ahead and wrote all over anything they could get their hands on.

This supposedly civilized group of people loved such a barbaric sport as football. Things such as "Alabama Roll Tide," "Ohio State Buck," "Cali-fornia," "Tenn., No. 50," "Arkansas No. 10," and "U of L. No. 10" were written on many items.

Although this civilization prided themselves on their industrial and social development, it's plain to see that their intelligence could have been considerably low. Consider the fact that "Who Jones" Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Nov. 16, 1973 in the basement of Gloria Hall. Admission couples $50, single $25. Refreshments will be free - there are no Wade Jones'" This note was signed by a "Puritan East." They also placed a heavy emphasis on what we now know to be a psychological crunch, which they called "love." We saw such things as "I love Mike Landersword," "I love you!" If you read this you have a secret admirer, "I love Knott!" and "Carobili. If you are reading this, ASK ME OUT!"

We were even able to use such sayings as "Due to the fact that Pat Bailey's deck died, there will be no breakfast served till 9 AM," or "Dean Gardner good to sing in chapel."

After studying many of the tables and chairs which were written on, we were able to deduce that they had attended Graffiti an art and practiced it constantly. Maybe the best thing that we saw written to describe such actions was the following: "What bunch of dummies wrote this stuff!"

The NEW EDITION

The New Edition is published monthly during the regular school year by Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Chester County, Tenn., 38340, and application to mail at second class rate to be pending at the Henderson Post Office.

Paul Rice
assistant editor

Bennie Davis

page editors

D. Logan

Steve Irwin

Karen Graham

business manager

Ruth Wilson

circulation manager

Joe Wheeler

Photographers

Dean Jones

Marky Goodpasture

Artwork

Bruce Carnahan

Chalmers Spencer

Map Judy Coleman
Bones get tight
by Karen and Bonnie

"Isn't it cute?" Pat Force was talking about the newest addition to Dr.
Howard Trull's biology lab. "JW" is a human skeleton with a slight abnormality as far as skeletons go. Mr.
Trull is now sporting aburgundy body tight. Now he got there only the skeleton looks for more.

When Dr. Trull walked into his first biology lab for the semester, he just shook his head and said "Pretty good, pretty good." Sharon Shivers thought Tim Martin had done it. "Tim done it but under-control. How did they ever get it on here?
But it fits pretty good, don't it?"
Someone in the back disagreed.
"She's wearing her clothes too tight," Pat Wright said. "Boy, she sure is skinny! They should have put a wig on her!" Pat Force, still unshaven, exclaimed, "I still can't tell if it's a male or a female!"

Dr. Trull is asking the real owner of the body tight to come by and claim it.

Valentine Couples
Kathy Masterson & David Blackburn
Bevery Shackle & John Simmons
Sara Hight & Dennis Davis
Susi Allister & David Rogers
Judie Holcomb & John Strickland
Renee Hird & Bruce Carusahan
Susan Perkins & Coy Walters
Lynah Taylor & Larry Macnair
Kenda Baker & Terry Jones
Jenice Eason & David Dunn
Ray Morrow & Kev Johnson
Pam Bley & Mike Wilson

McManey Drug Company
Perfumes, Cosmetics
Prescriptions, Records
Phone 989-2251
103 Main Street

Mars is one of 38 new students at F-HC this semester. New students come man, Dave Scholzoff, St.
Louis, Mo., served in the Army, spending three months in hospitals from an arm wound.

Students returning to F-HC are Patty Wilkins, Mississippi; student Jeff Casey
Other students include Kathleen Stuck, Memphis; Brenda Sharp, Missouri; Scott Wad-
nor, Michigan; Ken Morgan; Neda Carson, and Warren Hixson, Alabama; Cheryl Jones;
as far as Nigeria and Armenia.
Nigerians Alpan Johnson and Edie Ewoluny left families in Africa, while Paula story left the cold of Alabama.

"A step in the wrong," said Paula.

From Newport News, Va.,
came Edith and Laura Qual-

McManey Drug Company
Perfumes, Cosmetics
Prescriptions, Records
Phone 989-2251
103 Main Street

PEOPLE'S CLEANERS
TOMMY SMITH, Owner
HENDERSON, TENN. 38340

Hall Roland Girls
Say...

THANKS
for the new carpet

Compliments of Lucky Dollar
&
Golden Rule

The PLACE
young men's apparel—for every occasion at Holland's—downtown men's department
Downtown Jackson

Sonic Tire Center
Highway 46 North
Phone 989-7701

Sonic Tire Center
Highway 46 North
Phone 989-7701
and the crowd cheers as the Lions rack up a record of 13 wins and 8 losses.